

30 years with Salmon Pellets

APC seminar, 28.04.2011

Blått rom, Økonomibygningen (see Campus map, building 27), Norwegian University of Life Sciences (UMB), at Ås (see how to get there)

09:00	Welcoming remarks By Margareth Øverland
09:10 – 09:25	Introductions, the history of salmon pellets By Trond Storebakken
09:25 – 10:05	Modeling the nutritional implications of thermal stress By Brett Glencross
10:05 – 10:15	Coffee
10:15 – 11:00	Sustainability – engaging the value chain By Trygve Sigholt
11:00 – 12:15	Lunch
12:15 – 12:45	Sustainable fish diets, how do these affect the fish and its consumer By Gro Ingunn Hemre
12:45 – 13:15	Industrial response to increased sustainability demand in aquaculture By Adel El Mowafi
13:15 – 13:25	Coffee
13:25 – 13:55	Musings on sustainable aqua feeds (with help from ancient philosophers, idioms and orphan slides) By Karl D. Shearer
13:55 – 14:00	Conclusion By Margareth Øverland

PhD dissertations:

27.04 Edison Serrano about: "Biological responses in rainbow trout (Oncorhynchus mykiss) after dietary intake of lupine seeds and quinolizidine alkaloids".

29.04 Jon Øvrum Hansen about "Antarctic krill (Euphausia superba) as a feed ingredient for salmonids with focus on the shell fraction and fluoride."

Find more info at apc.umb.no/seminars